British Report U.S. Far Ahead In Rocket Race

450-500 ICBMs Seen
In Yankee Stockpile,
Only 75 In Russia's

LONDON (AP)—America's long-range missile strength far exceeds that of the Soviet Union, according to an intelligence report issued today by the British Institute for Strategic Studies.

The report claims the United States has between 450 and 500 intercontinental ballistic missiles compared with 75 in the Soviet arsenal.

But the institute says existing Soviet rockets of this type have powerful boosters and can carry larger nuclear warheads than such American equivalents, as the Titan.

Theoretically, said the report, the Communists could launch 50-megaton warheads into a ballistic trajectory.

They also have been developing for two years a more advanced ICBM which likely will be smaller, easier to conceal and more accurate. It can be expected to be deployed sometime next year, said the institute.

Soviet strategists apparently have concentrated on shorter range rockets—medium-range ballistic missiles in the 600 to 2,000-mile range such as were erected in Cuba, the report said.

The institute said the Soviets are believed to have about 700 of these compared with the West's 250.

Soviet medium-range rockets are "deployed in sufficient numbers to deal with strategic and semi-tactical targets—such as fighter airfields in Western Europe, including Britain, and in the Far East," the institute reported.

The institute is a privately financed organization with access to much confidential information.

Other information in its report included:

The United States and its Allies have a clear lead in nuclear bomber strength. They have 2,200 compared to 1,800 behind the Iron Curtain. Total Communist air strength is put at 15,000 operational planes.

There is no reason to dispute Soviet claims that they have a true Polaris-type missile which can be fired from a submerged submarine, the institute reports.

The Soviets lead heavily in submarines—445 against 212—but probably lag in development of the atom-powered type.

The total size of the Soviet forces this fall was put at about 3.6 million men. Satellite armies swelled the Communist bloc strength to 7.7 million men under arms.

The regular armed forces of the United States and its treaty allies totaled just over 8 million.

Menon Seen Continuing As Nehru Adviser

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Top Indian political and official circles believe that V. K. Krishna Menon will continue to be Prime Minister Nehru's chief adviser on foreign policy despite his fall from the cabinet and the debacle of his defense policy.

And there is no indication, these same sources say, that Menon won't continue to be Nehru's favorite spokesman at the United Nations when the prime minister feels Menon's special talents are needed there.

Menon no longer will exercise direct and constant influence on day-to-day policies, as he has for the past six years as a senior cabinet member, one of Nehru's aides said.

"But there is nothing to prevent him from continuing as Nehru's top foreign affairs confidant, which he always has been even without being in the Cabinet," the aide added.

One top official commented wryly:

"If tomorrow we need a man to talk with Chou En-lai, who else is there except Menon?"

OSU Gets $259,000 Science Foundation Fund

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University has announced a $259,000 grant from the National Science Foundation for two years' support of its program of experimental investigation of physical phenomena at very low temperatures.

The grant is for continuation of research in the physics department previously supported by the foundation.

POLICE CHIEF VAIDEN LONG examines a $600 beaver-mink fur jacket stolen from the Martha Washington Shop, 247 E. Court St. This was the most expensive item among more than $1,500 worth of men's and women's clothing shoplifted from five Washington C. H. stores Thursday afternoon.

Albanian Rap At Khrush Widens Soviet-China Rift

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Who is "the sworn enemy of the Socialist camp and the international Communist and worker's movement?"

Who prevents "the friends of the U.S.R. from profiting by the great benefits of Soviet science?"

Who is a traitor, a "renegade anti-Marxist?"

According to Enver Hoxha, boss of the Albanian Communist party, the culprit is Nikita S. Khrushchev.

And that seems to mean that the rift between the Soviet Communist party and the Red Chinese has become even deeper, and that there is division and confusion in the world Communist camp.

One of the reasons for the widening of the chasm appears to be Khrushchev's performance in the recent Cuban crisis. But there is more to it than that, and Hoxha seems to have let the cat out of the bag.

Hoxha has been quarantined by Moscow's ruling Communists for disagreeing with Khrushchev and siding with the Red Chinese in the squabble within the world Communist movement. He has just let go with the most violent blast yet launched by any Communist leader against the Soviet premier.

Little, isolated Albania's economy is choking because of a Moscow bloc embargo. Hoxha made the new attack this week at a Tirana meeting of professional fronts.

Khrushchev, in the words of Hoxha, "prevents the friends of the U.S.S.R. from profiting from the great benefits of Soviet science, but he is generous to his workers. A partial text of the diatribe has just become available in this country."

Ordinary Chinese are careful about exposing the real sources of their troubles. But Hoxha appears to have been a little careless. According to him, Khrushchev is guilty of a whole list of sins.

Here are some of Khrushchev's transgressions in the eyes of the Albanian Communists, which means also in the eyes of the Red Chinese:

Khrushchev believes there have been changes in capitalism and it no longer resembles the capitalism of which Marx wrote a century ago.

Khrushchev has revised Marxist-Leninist "revolutionary strategy and tactics" under what Hoxha calls "the pretext of new circumstances." This means the Soviet boss adopted the notion that it was dangerous to be actively involved in the so-called "national liberation movement," meaning the fomenting of revolutions which can be infiltrated and captured by Communists.

The latest victim, found Thursday, was mutilated in a fashion reminiscent of the killer who roared London's White Chapel District in the 1880s and never was caught.

The victim was Anita Christine Barmore, 21. She was a friend of the second victim, Nancy Webb, 21, killed a month ago. Both had worked in Louisville, Ky., taverns.

The body of the first girl, Julia Ann Dawson, 22, was found May 21 south of here near Jeffersonville. Her body was decomposed and coroner ruled she died of an overdose of a pain-killing drug. Miss Webb had been beaten and strangled.

Coroner Edwin Coots said Miss Barmore apparently was strangled. All three girls were from Louisville.

Louisville police said there was a possible link between the slayings but nothing definite had been established.

The area of the slayings is just across the Ohio River from Louisville.

In Washington, the Food and Drug Administration said all suspected products have been withdrawn from the market. It said the shipments had previously gone to New Jersey, New York, Massachusetts, California, Minnesota and Ohio.

Also named in the government action were the Nysco President, Milton Sacks, the treasurer, Eugene J. Yoss, director of laboratories, Robert Goldman and production supervisor, Harry E. Gimbel.

Gimbel was named on nine counts and the others on 11 counts each of selling food and drugs illegally adulterated. They have until Nov. 15 to enter pleas.

If convicted, the defendants could receive maximum sentences of a year in prison and a $1,000 fine on each count.

Food, Drug Product Banned: Contained Harmful Hormone

NEW YORK (AP)—The Justice Department has accused a New York firm of distributing food and drug products contaminated by a powerful sex hormone harmful to young boys and girls.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration said, the hormone can cause feminization in young boys and early internal physiological development in young girls.

The Justice Department action was taken in Brooklyn federal court Thursday against Nysco Laboratories Inc., manufacturer of pharmaceuticals in Long Island City, Queens. Among the items it produces are dietary food supplements, prescription drugs, antihistamine tablets and tablets for acid stomach.

The government said some products were adulterated with the hormone diethylstilbestrol by failure to clean machinery properly after producing batches of the acid stomach.

The complaint did not give the trade names of the allegedly contaminated drugs.

U.S. Atty. Joseph P. Hoey said

the adulteration had taken place over a two-year period ended last June. But no figures were given on the number of persons said to have been affected by the company's products.

Three Held In $1,500 WCH Shoplifting Spree

Cincinnatians Apprehended In Chillicothe

Two of three Cincinnati residents, arrested after a two-hour, $1,500 shoplifting spree in downtown Washington C. H. Thursday afternoon, have been bound to the Fayette County grand jury under $5,000 bond each.

Edythe Ann Shelley, 24, Vernon Garrett, 20, and Jesse Dan Tinsley, 20, are being held in county jail in lieu of bail.

Garrett entered a plea of guilty to grand larceny and waived preliminary hearing. Miss Shelley pleaded not guilty at a preliminary hearing, and Tinsley, who pleaded not guilty, will be heard at his meetings with Kremmling negotiators.

A Communist source at the United Nations said the Soviet Union has hardened its stand and does not intend to make any further concessions unless it gets firmer guarantees that the United States will not invade Cuba.

The Cuban delegate Carlos Lechuga, reportedly told other Latin-American delegates that Castro considers his own government owns the bombers, which the Soviet Union sent secretly to him along with missiles, and intends to keep the jets.

On orders of Premier Khrushchev, the missiles are being carted away on ships reportedly over the objections of Castro. But the Soviets have sidestepped saying anything about the bombers.

And the Soviet troubleshooters sent by Khrushchev from Moscow are standing by Castro in his demands, which include the United States giving up its big Guantanamo naval base.

U.S. ships have intercepted five Russian vessels outbound from Cuba. Missiles and missile equipment have been seen on the decks of at least three of them, the Defense Department announced today.

Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester said four of the ships were intercepted this morning. The fifth was contacted Thursday. No missile components were reported aboard it.

Sylvester said the U.S. Navy craft pulled close alongside the Russian ships Dymogorsk, Volgograd, and Lavinsk, and that the Russian crewmen pulled back heavy canvas covering what appeared to be missiles in skin tight casings designed to protect them from the sea and weather.

Photographs were taken and are being returned here for analysis.

Lucy Buys Out Desi Business

Actress Takes Over From Ex-Husband

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Lucille Ball is taking over as president of Desilu Productions and will acquire control of the multi-million-dollar enterprise by buying out her ex-husband, Desi Arnaz.

Arnaz, 45, resigned the presidency Thursday and the board of directors immediately named Miss Ball to succeed him.

Thus the couple ended their business association about two years after ending their marriage. Arnaz was not available for comment on his resignation, but a Desilu spokesman said he wants to devote full time to other interests.

Miss Ball, 51, said he would purchase 300,350 shares of stock held by Arnaz and increase her holdings to 600,650, or 52 per cent of all outstanding shares.

A studio spokesman said Miss Ball will pay Arnaz "a price considerably in excess of the current market value." Desilu stock has gone as high as $12 a share on all of its outstanding shares.

There were reports recently that a large electrical firm sought to buy Desilu and the asking price there was estimated at $20 million.

This is approximately the sum realized by Arnaz and Miss Ball during their seven years as co-stars of the "I Love Lucy" television show.

A spokesman said the studio improved its condition this year. It owns three successful shows, "The Lucille Ball Show," "The Untouchables" and "Fair Exchange." Nine other shows are filmed at Desilu on a space rental basis. The studio occupies the old RKO movie lot.

Arnaz and Miss Ball were married 20 years and have two children. She married nightclub comedian Gary Morton a year ago.

Steer Brings $2,215

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Wesley S. Mast, 18, of Lancaster County, received $2,215 for his grand champion steer at the Pennsylvania livestock exposition.

Posey had been out of class all week as the board pondered the case. He will be paid for the time he was out of school.

The padding of the ninth grade boys sprang from a wave of thievery at the school in recent weeks. About $50 had been missing from school lockers and $2.57 had been taken from Posey's jacket.

He threatened to punish the entire class if the money was not returned. When it was not, each boy received five whacks.

Bids will be opened next Tuesday on the construction of 15.33 miles of Interstate Rt. 71 in Fayette, Madison and Greene counties, the Ohio Department of Highways announced Friday.

Total cost of the first three freeway sections in this area is estimated at $10,763,000.

Bids on another section wholly within Fayette County are to be opened Nov. 27 and on another Fayette County section Dec. 11.

Work in Fayette County is expected to start next month, and the freeway probably will be open to traffic between its present terminus at Harrisburg and Cincinnati in the fall of 1964.

SCHEDULED for letting Nov. 27 is a 5.25 mile section between West Lancaster and Rt. 41 (old Rt. 70). The remaining 5-mile section between Rt. 41 and Rt. 38 is expected to be sold Dec. 11.

Alfred J. Conaway, supervisor of the Highway Department field office which is handling the right-of-way acquisition, said Friday that all that need land in the Rt. 35-Rt. 41 section has been acquired (either by purchase or agreement) with one exception.

Condemnation proceedings are under way in one case.

The field office is now concentrating its efforts in the area between Rt. 41 and Rt. 38, with the appraisal work nearly complete.

The new four-lane highway will be limited access with an 84-foot median strip.

New Farm Plan Studies Start

Kennedy Aides Seek Ag Program Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—The congressional elections over, the Kennedy administration has set to work to draft new farm legislative proposals which it believes the new Congress will accept.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman started the preliminary activities Thursday by calling in President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation for a conference on farm issues. Shuman's organization has stoutly opposed much of the past Kennedy program, particularly proposals involving greater government participation in farming.

Freeman expects to meet next week with leaders of the National Milk Producers Federation at its convention in Cincinnati and the National Grange at its annual meeting in Fort Wayne, Ind. He plans to confer later with President James G. Patton of the National Farmers Union.

Farm legislative proposals expected to be submitted to the new congress in January will relate principally to feed, grain milk and cotton.

Opinions differ as to how the new Congress can be expected to react to Kennedy farm proposals seeking authority, approved by farmers, to control production for the purpose of stabilizing supplies and prices. The last Congress refused to pass legislation providing for such controls on feed grains and dairy products, although it did approve a program designed to tighten production controls on wheat.

Freeman assistants said their analysis of the congressional election results led them to believe the new Congress would look with greater favor on administration farm plans. But some Republican farm leaders as well as Farm Bureau Federation officials disagreed.

Soviets Balking?

"The responsible people of this government are satisfied that what is being reported are the missiles," Sylvester said, "but the final determination will await analysis of the photographs which are being returned."

In proclaiming at a Moscow news conference Wednesday that the Red missiles "probably are on their way" home, Soviet Premier Khrushchev mentioned a figure of 40. That's the minimum amount the Navy will be looking for, the Pentagon said.

The Navy's mission is to confirm what the Defense Department says aerial reconnaissance photographs indicate—"That medium-range ballistic missile and intermediate-range ballistic missile equipment is being removed from Cuba."

The Pentagon announcement also said the photographs indicated "all known MRBM and IRBM missile bases in Cuba have been dismantled."

Three Soviet ships—presumably carrying missiles—were sighted outbound from Cuba Thursday. They probably will be the first contacted by U.S. warships.

Although Washington fully expects Khrushchev to live up to his missiles withdrawal commitment, the Pentagon announcement carefully avoided a flat declaration that all Soviet missiles were on their way out of Cuba. Thus, the question remains: Did the Soviets bring into Cuba more missiles than were detected by U.S. surveillance?

Thursday night, Assistant Secretary of State Edwin M. Martin acknowledged in a radio interview (Mutual-Capitol Assignment) that inspection of departing ships at sea "would not necessarily tell us what was left behind."

At the United Nations, informed sources reported that the Soviet Union has told the United States all Soviet missiles will be out of Cuba by Monday and there will be no need for U.S. naval inspection of outbound Soviet ships after that date. The inclination in Washington was to view this as informative, rather than an attempt to set a deadline for when at-sea inspection should cease.

The U.S. has received indications that several thousand Soviet technicians in Cuba, presumed here to be military missile experts, are preparing to leave the island, officials reported today.

The evidence of large-scale withdrawal of Soviet military personnel, authorities hinted, comes at least in part from aerial photographs showing movements of large numbers of men from the area of the dismantled missile bases to ports on Cuba's north coast.

The migration has been in progress for several days, officials said.

To survive in Arctic wastes, polar bears must constantly hunt for food. Therefore, when an Eskimo sees a bear, he knows that seals and fish are also near.

Deaths, Funerals

Mrs. John R. Stevens

Mrs. Belva M. Stevens, 38, of 327 N. Main St., died at 11 p.m. Thursday in St. Anthony's Hospital, Columbus. She had been in failing health five years and critically ill a day.

Born and reared in New Holland, she moved to Washington C. H. in 1942 and had lived here since. A graduate of New Holland High School in 1942, she was a member of the First Christian Church.

Survivors include her husband, John R. Stevens; a daughter, Mrs. Shirley Wilson, S. Main St.; a son, William, at home; her mother, Mrs. Artie Ellars, 925 S. Elm St.; her father, George Stewart, Wood Rd., near New Holland; two sisters, Mrs. Martin Lininger, New Holland, and Miss Edith Stewart, 321 N. Main St., and a brother, John Stewart, 153 Eastview Ave.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Sunday in the First Christian Church with the Rev. Don McMillin in charge. Burial will be in New Holland Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Gerstner Funeral Home after 7 p.m. Friday.

Orris Marine

Mrs. Ernest Chaney, Jasper R. Coil Rd., and Charles Marine, 704 Sycamore St., received word Friday morning that their nephew, Orris Marine, of Colton, Wash., had died Monday in the Quincy, Wash., hospital of injuries received in an automobile accident near there.

Although the message did not give the date of the accident, it did say that Mr. Marine and his sister, Mrs. Vernice Steiner, of Johnson, Wash., also had been injured and are still in the hospital and improving.

Mr. Marine, a native of Fayette County, had lived in Colton since 1910. He had been the postmaster there for many years and also was the proprietor of a drug store.

Mrs. Steiner also was born here.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Marine is survived by two daughters and a son, now in Germany with the Air Force.

Services were held at 10 a.m. (Pacific time) in Colton. Burial was in the Colton Cemetery.

MRS. GERALD PRESTON

Services for Mrs. Lena P. Preston, 69, wife of Gerald Preston, Sabina, were held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina, with the Rev. Jack Fawley officiating. Mrs. Preston died Tuesday.

Mrs. Warren Stauffer sang two hymns, with Mrs. Walter Stauffer at the organ. Pallbearers for the burial in Sabina Cemetery were Roy Newland, William Ammonite, Harry Hickson, Wayne Stauffer, Hugh Zimmerman, Walter Stackhouse, Albert Hiles and Dale Hiles.

ALVA E. BROWN — Services for Alva H. Brown, 88, of 344 Fifth St., who died Monday evening, were held at 1 p.m. Thursday in the Parrett Funeral Home by the Rev. Allen M. Falls, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Jean Sowers and Mrs. Mildred Shockey sang one hymn. They were accompanied by Mrs. Maudaline Bonenetur.

Pallbearers for the burial in Washington Cemetery were six grandsons, David Lee, Donald, Robert, Thomas, James and Vora A. Brown Jr.

Red China Farm Mechanization Fails

TOKYO (AP)—Red China supplied new evidence today of the gravity of its economic plight with an announcement it will take from 20 to 25 years to mechanize its agriculture.

The Red regime had set the deadline originally at 10 years, with semimechanization to be achieved in three. Though no figures have been published, the Communist leadership belatedly admitted this year that the industrial "great leap forward" had been stalled by three years of natural calamities and human mismanagement.

The official Peiping People's Daily said today Red China needs more than one million tractors to farm its 260 million acres of land. It now has only 100,000.

Lima Vote Machine Speed Is Hailed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Martin Coyle, developer of a new voting machine which bears his name, reported today that Allen County, which uses the machine countywide, was the second county in the state to file its abstract of Tuesday's election.

Allen County with 140 polling places was second only to Union County with 37 polling places.

Coyle reported this is the second year Allen County has used the new pint-sized voting machine which uses punch-cards for ballots. The votes under the system are counted by electronic equipment.

Coyle blamed insufficient equipment for reported delays in voting Tuesday in several trial runs in Hamilton County.

City Manager, Chief Won't Recommend Reinstatement Of Resigned Police Officer

Neither City Manager David Foell nor Police Chief D. Vaiden Long will recommend the reinstatement of Patrolman Simon White who submitted his resignation before he was jailed on a contempt of court citation last Monday.

White asked reinstatement Tuesday afternoon after he was released from the county jail on promising to make payments pre-scribed by Common Pleas Judge

John P. Case in connection with a divorce action filed by White's wife, Virginia Lee.

The city's Civil Service Commission has deferred until next Wednesday its decision on White's reinstatement request.

In a prepared statement delivered to The Record-Herald Thursday afternoon, Foell said:

"You recently carried a story concerning the hearing held by the Civil Service Commission in regard to the request for reinstatement by Patrolman Simon White.

In this story you stated that neither the chief of police nor I had any recommendation in regard to this case.

"In order to correct an erroneous situation, I would like to point out that both the chief and I did have a recommendation in regards to this matter.

"In particular, the following is an extract of my letter to the commission, concurred in by the chief of police: 'In view of this, and reserving the right to change my recommendation, pending information contrary to that which I am presently in possession of, I cannot recommend the reinstatement of Patrolman White. The reason that I cannot is due to the fact that Mr. White was lawfully incarcerated, and to me this is, at the least, conduct unbecoming an officer and actions which are inimical to the good of the department.'"

Foell added verbally that after reading the court's formal entry, signed Wednesday, that he and the police chief both concluded that White could not be recommended for reinstatement.

The entry was not received until after the Civil Service board had met to discuss the reinstatement.

U.S. Reserves To Get Credit For CD Duty

CLEVELAND (AP)—Under a new program to bolster the nation's Civil Defense forces, standby military reservists who volunteer for Civil Defense duties will be given points toward retirement status and credit toward retirement pay.

The program, worked out by the Department of Defense, was disclosed here Thursday by Walter F. Lineberger Jr., deputy assistant secretary for Civil Defense.

Lineberger and an assistant, John McConnell, answered Civil Defense questions at a meeting with Cleveland Mayor Ralph S. Locher and mayors and representatives of municipalities in Cuyahoga County.

Lineberger, a former Cleveland engineer, said the reservists would be used first as instructors in Civil Defense work and later would take on additional duties.

"Eventually," he said, "a complete roster of standby reservists in the county will be made available to CD headquarters, which in turn will request that the reservists take a role in the CD program."

Lineberger said the Department of Defense authorized the use of the reservists after receiving requests from local Civil Defense directors who need manpower to strengthen their organizations.

Standby reservists are ex-servicemen on reserve status, but who do not belong to active units or attend regular drills or reserve training. The new program would include both officers and enlisted men.

Navy Vet, 73, Gets Draft Call, Is Ready

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Okay, Uncle Sam, if you want Patrick Reilly again he'll answer the call.

Reilly, 78, is a Navy veteran of the Spanish-American War, the Mexican trouble in 1913-16 and World War I, and lives at the Naval Home here. In all, he's had 30 years of active service, and he wears a few medals.

Wednesday, as he was lunching, another resident came along with the mail and said, "Wait till you see what I've got for you, Pat."

Reilly was so bowled over he lost his spoon at the table.

For his piece of mail was a draft board notice—a post card ordering him to register pronto at Selective Service headquarters.

"According to your date of birth shown in the records of the local board you should be registered with the Selective Service system," it said.

Reilly said he'd go, along with that: he simply filled out the card and sent it back as asked.

"Well, I've been through two wars, in and out," he said, "so I figure if they need me, sure I'll go back."

There has been no reaction so far from the Selective Service people.

Reilly, a Chicago native, retired from active service in 1933, and entered the home in 1942.

U.S. Net Farm Income In '61 Tops '60 Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department study shows that net farm incomes were higher in 1961 than in 1960 on 27 of 39 important types of commercial farms in 21 major farming areas in the United States.

Net farm incomes in 1961 were lower on seven types of farms and about the same on the other five.

Returns were higher in 1961 on the dairy farms in the Midwest and Northeast, the Corn Belt farms, the western cattle ranches, the tobacco farms in the coastal plains of North Carolina and the tobacco-livestock farms in the bluegrass area of Kentucky.

They were lower on the poultry farms and the western sheep ranches.

In general, the changes in net incomes from 1960 to 1961 were quite substantial on the majority of farms. Only 12 farm types had no change or changes of less than 1 per cent.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department estimates the 1962 output of cigarettes at 539 billion, about 11 billion above 1961 and a new high.

U.S. use of cigarettes, including that of overseas forces, is estimated at 512 billion, up about 9 billion from 1961.

Although total output and use of cigarettes in 1962 will be above that of any previous year, the rate of gain may be smaller than for several years.

A continuation of the upward trend in cigarette smoking could normally be expected in 1963, but the gain will probably be at a more gradual rate than during the years 1955 through 1961.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A slight increase in acreages for 1963 early and late spring potatoes is recommended by the Agriculture Department.

An acreage guide supports a total spring crop of 138,850 acres, or 3 per cent more than the 135,000 acres planted in 1962. With average yields, the probable production from this acreage would be 26.5 million hundred weight. This compares with the 1962 harvest of 24.1 million.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Nov. 9, the 313th day of 1962. There are 52 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1780, a conference of clergy and laity at Chestertown, Md., gave the name of Protestant Episcopal Church to the Church of England in America.

On this date:

In 1809, St. Louis was incorporated as a town.

In 1855, David Solomons was installed as the first Jewish lord mayor of London.

In 1918, Kaiser Wilhelm ad-dicated and Germany was proclaimed a republic.

In 1933, the Civil Works Administration was established by the Roosevelt administration.

In 1944, Prime Minister Winston Churchill disclosed that a new Nazi vengeance weapon—the V2 rocket bomb—was being used against Britain.

Today's birthdays:

Comedian Ed Wynn is 76. U.S. swimmer Florence Chadwick is 44.

Thought for today:

Social prosperity means man happy, the citizen free, the nation great—Victor Hugo.

Sharks follow the faintest scent of blood and are attracted to a thrashing object.

their labors brought forth in the new land. Joining with their neighbors, they shared together and worshipped together in a common giving of thanks. Thanksgiving Day has ever since been part of the fabric which has united Americans with their past, with each other and with the future of all mankind.

"It is fitting that we observe this year our own day of Thanksgiving. It is fitting that we give our thanks for the safety of our land, for the fertility of our harvests, for the strength of our liberties, for the health of our people. We do so in no spirit of self-righteousness. We recognize that we are the beneficiaries of the toil and devotion of our fathers and that we can pass their legacy on to our children only by equal toil and equal devotion. We recognize too that we live in a world of peril and change—and in so uncertain a time we are all the more grateful for the indestructible gifts of hope and love, which sustain us in adversity and inspire us to labor unceasingly for a more perfect community within this nation and around the earth.

"Let us renew that spirit by offering our thanks for unenvied mercies, beyond our desert or merit, and by resolving to meet the responsibilities placed upon us.

"Let us renew that spirit by sharing the abundance of this day with those less fortunate, in our own land and abroad. Let us renew that spirit by seeking always to establish larger communities of brotherhood.

"Let us renew that spirit by preparing our souls for the uncertainties ahead—by being always ready to confront crisis with steadfastness and achievement with grace and modesty.

"Let us renew that spirit byconcerting our energy and our hope with men and women everywhere that the world may move more rapidly toward the time when Thanksgiving may be a day of universal celebration.

"Let us renew that spirit by expressing our acceptance of the limitations of human striving and by affirming our duty to strive nonetheless, as Providence may direct us, toward a better world for all mankind.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed."

"I urge that all observe this day

Airline In Caribbean Places Service First

WEST BEND, Grand Bahama, B.W.I. (P) — A Mackay Airlines four-engine airliner took off from Marsh Harbour for West End, then wheeled about and returned to the field.

Two men climbed aboard and the craft took off.

An American tourist later asked the pilot what had happened. The pilot replied that after takeoff he spotted the two men waving, so went back. He said, "If I hadn't gone back they couldn't have caught another plane until next week."

Planes stop at Marsh Harbour thrice weekly.

Only 20 Years Ago Yesterday

NEW YORK (AP)—Only yesterday it happened—20 years ago yesterday.

It was then the second World War reached a great turning point as the Allies landed in force in Algeria and French Morocco.

The African campaign became, as one war correspondent described it, "the back door to Berlin." Despite some setbacks, the offensive began on Nov. 8, 1942, never ceased until Adolf Hitler lay dead and his Third Reich sagged in ruin.

Looking back across the mists of two decades to those days of dust and blood and glory, each survivor of that vanished prime has his own particular memories now.

I was in the convoy that sailed from an eastern U.S. port to strike in three places along Morocco's famed "Iron Coast."

The troops were high-spirited, well-trained, but strange to combat. They were sure it would take them no time at all to whip the Nazis.

Leaning on the ship's rail, a grizzled colonel who two weeks later won the Medal of Honor for valor, looked at the infantry men around him and sighed.

"These men have no idea what they will be called upon to do before we're through," he said. "They think they'll be going home in a few months. But this war could go on for five years—maybe even longer."

I remember the night before we landed watching a group of officers singing "Auld Lang Syne." They were led by a young lieutenant with a fine voice.

Before dawn the next morning we struck at Fedala Beach north of Casablanca. Some of the landing craft hit coral reefs and overturned. Weighted with their gear, dozens of soldiers drowned in the heavy surf.

Others formed human chains and pulled each other ashore through artillery fire. They had gone through the first of many baptisms.

At 2:30 that afternoon I saw for the last time the young lieutenant with the fine voice. He lay sprawled, eyes turned sightless to the sky, in the back of a peasant cart. A big red stain spread from his chestbone to his knees.

Soon a tank roared up in which stood a two-star general wearing a pistol on each side of his fates. He glanced over at a middle-aged colonel who still wore his green dress uniform ornamented by several rows of brightly colored ribbons.

By Hal Boyle

"What the hell are you—a Christmas tree?" demanded the general in a voice like a screaming buzz-saw.

From that day on no one ever had to ask where George S. Patton was on a battlefield. They could hear him.

In three days Morocco and Algeria had been taken. In six months, after a momentous setback at Kasserine Gap, Tunis had fallen. Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's great Afrika Corps was behind barbed wire, and all Africa became a great Allied spring-board.

But few American troops, now trained veterans, talked of going home soon. Their eyes looked older than their faces, and they would never feel truly young again.

Still ahead of them lay beaches like Gela, Salerno and Anzio and Normandy to be taken; and cities like Palermo, Rome, St. Lo, Aachen and Cologne; and rivers like the Volturno, the Po and the Rhine to be crossed.

But they were still strong, still confident. They felt they at least knew what had to be done to win the final victory.

That was 20 years ago. Now are we as sure what we have to do?

The United Nations Crisis

The Cuban and Indian wars can affect the United Nations more than either its advocates or its adversaries seem to recognize.

As regards India, the United Nations has done nothing. The enemy in that situation is Red China which is not a member of the United Nations and therefore not subject to its jurisdiction.

But it would be impressed by the might of the United Nations, if it had any. India is a member of the United Nations, a very influential member and the leader of the neutralist group.

Here is a case where a member is attacked by a non-member and the United Nations is silent, just as it has been silent about Tibet when a non-member was attacked and conquered by a non-member.

There is evidence in the Indian situation that the United Nations cannot function efficiently to maintain world peace; that when great powers are involved or war is actually occurring, the United Nations can do nothing because of the veto power in the Security Council and the politics played by small nations.

Thant's visit to Cuba was ridiculous. If his object was to get Castro to obey Khrushchev, the question must be why. Here is a situation which involves three members of the United Nations, two permanent members of the Security Council and one member that is a pinch of snuff.

The small member is in a position to force the two great powers to fight and bring on a world war.

Can the United Nations do anything about it? Apparently not. U Thant and a body of United Nations representatives went to Cuba, sat with Castro and his associates, talked and returned to New York. Nothing was accomplished, and Khrushchev sent Mikoyan to see what he could do.

The fact is that the small nations can bring on a war between the big powers. Thus, the small nations have become a nuisance, but they can develop situations which will force the great powers to come to their defense.

Thus, Cuba, unless abandoned by Soviet Russia, can bring on a war between Soviet Russia and the United States. By being weak and backward and playing meaningless power politics, India may involve all the world in war.

The fault is India's. That country has received sufficient aid from both the United States and Soviet Russia to defend its boundaries. What has it done with the aid?

The tiny countries on the west coast of Africa and in the sub-Saharan areas strut about the United Nations as though they were a real force in world affairs. Actually, they count for little or nothing, except that they have votes in the General Assembly.

A few bombs dropped by either Russia or the United States can put them out of existence. They cannot sustain themselves economically or militarily. They are in fact, a menace to world peace because their votes in the United Nations have a purchase price.

There is no use deceiving oneself about this matter of price because of man has become a vent for politicians.

James Marlow

Brown. It was a defeat which probably ends his political career.

Yet, 75 per cent of the California newspapers which took sides endorsed him.

The fear that sometimes after the battle he might be so tired that he would make a mistake in judgment has been on Nixon's mind for years. It comes out in the book he wrote this year about the "Six Crises" in his life.

But the book also shows that his feeling of unfair treatment by the press also goes away back. There is even an indication in it that he thinks newsmen are only fair to him when they are on his "team."

He repeats the following statement in one form or another:

"The point of greatest danger for an individual confronted with a crisis is not during the period of preparation for battle, nor fighting the battle itself, but in the period immediately after the battle is over."

Then, completely exhausted and drained emotionally, he must watch his decisions most carefully. Then there is an increasing possibility of an error because he may lack the necessary cushion of emotional and mental reserve which is essential for good judgment.

He even quotes his old college football coach, Chief Newman, on how to be a good loser. He considered Newman a "talented molder of character" and has him saying in the book:

"You must never be satisfied with losing. You must get angry, terribly angry, about losing. But the mark of a good loser is that he takes his anger out on himself and not on his victorious opponents or his teammates."

Nixon said: "I take the responsibility" for losing, when he walked into the news conference but then, after praising his 100,000 volunteer workers, blamed them for not getting out enough votes. This, he said, cost him the election.

Nor was he gracious to Brown or President Kennedy who beat him for the White House in 1960. He called Brown the "people's choice" and said he hoped Brown's "leadership will now become more decisive."

He said he thought Kennedy could do all right in foreign policy "if he has his own way" but suggested the President get rid of

EVER HAPPEN TO YOU

By Blake

Inside You And Yours

BY BURTON H. FERN, M.C.
You suddenly wake up. Through the cold darkness you can hear Baby barking, choking and strangling!

What should you do?

Have someone phone the doctor. Meanwhile, take Baby into the bathroom and turn on the hot shower.

That clipped, crow-like bark is called croup. It's caused by fluttering vocal cords that slam shut just as air is gushing in.

Infants and toddlers are especially vulnerable. You don't need much swelling or mucus to stop up tiny air passages.

When colds and sore throats spread down the air passage, vocal cords and nearby tissue swell. Air can barely squeeze through and croup begins. When croup starts during a cold or fever, rush Baby to the hospital. This can be a life-threatening emergency.

Spasmodic Croup

If Baby seems well otherwise he probably has spasmodic croup. Here spasm—not swelling—narrows the passage. Cool bedrooms seem to trigger spasmodic croup. It's often mild—sometimes so mild that Baby doesn't even wake up. But it can mimic that frightening hospital emergency.

Then Baby sits up, grasps his throat and gasps for air. As each breath is clipped short, his chest wall is sucked in.

If croup doesn't stop in 15 to 20 minutes, phone your doctor again. This could be an emergency.

Mild sedatives and warm bed-rooms help prevent future croup. So can giant vaporizers.

And you can always count on your calendar. In a few years, Baby should outgrow the croup tendency!

There are about six thousand distinct species of grass in the world.

Madison Mills Circle Group Meets

The Mary Martha Circle of Madison Mills WSCS met Wednesday with Mrs. Forest Fry. Mrs. Wayne Shobe was the leader.

Mrs. Lester Hains read the 10th Chapter of St. Mark, and Mrs. Bess Seaman was in charge of the program on the theme, "Children with Special Needs." She and Mrs. Homer Wilson presented a dialog on the subject and Mrs. Seaman offered prayer.

Mrs. Fred Powell of Bloomingburg, who had attended the Prosecutor's Conference Retreat, explained the program subject, "Loving God, Myself and Others."

The group decided to visit rest homes in the county and discussed the reports to be sent to the district office, and plans for the family night Saturday, Nov. 10. A potluck supper will begin at 6:30. They also purchased stamps for the UN.

Members of the Circle will go to Columbus Nov. 20 to mend clothing at the State Hospital. There was also an announcement of a cantata with the combined choirs to be held Dec. 1 and a Christmas program.

The Mispat benediction closed the meeting.

Those attending included Mrs. Wilbur Allemang, Mrs. George Anschutz, Mrs. Howard Clark, Mrs. Malcolm Dorn, Mrs. Leland Dorn, Mrs. Hains, Mrs. Glen Hidy, Mrs. Harold King, Mrs. Dwight King, Mrs. Freddie Le Beau, Mrs. H. W. Melvin, Mrs. Seaman, Miss Florence Shobe, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Powell, and Mrs. Shobe.

Mrs. Harold King and Mrs. Le Beau were assisting hostesses.

The next meeting Dec. 5 will be a combined meeting at the church with the Mary Martha Circle hostesses.

Crusaders Hear Of Africa

The Christian Crusaders Class of the South Side Church of Christ met in the church Thursday evening for their annual Thanksgiving get-together.

The meeting was preceded with a covered dish supper, the food served cafeteria style. Members were seated at two long tables centered with yellow mums. Mr. Thomas Willis gave the opening invocation preceding the meal.

The president, Mr. Sheldon Grubb, presided at the short business meeting, during which the treasurer, Mr. Guy Patto, reported on the class project, which is raising $600 to be used toward some item of furnishing in the future church.

Mrs. Barry Kennedy, who with her husband are missionaries on furlough from Southern Rhodesia, Africa, was devotionally a speaker of the evening. Her subject was "Thanksgiving in Africa." She told of the customs, food and the mode of living in general. She also told of a native wedding she had witnessed.

She had on display a table of curios she had brought back with her, hand-carved animals of wood, hand-painted pictures, brass trays, and beautiful crochet and beaded work, all hand-made by the African natives. She closed her most inspirational talk with prayer.

The next meeting will be Dec. 6 and hostesses will be Mrs. Hubbard Davis, Mrs. Thomas Willis and Mrs. John G. Jordan. Dr. John G. Jordan will be devotional leader.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Isaac Beedy, Mrs. Guy Brooks and Mrs. Willis Anthony.

Ladies Aid With Mrs. Riggs

Elmwood Ladies Aid had 23 members in attendance when they met with Mrs. Russell Riggs, whose evening assistants were Mrs. William Clark and Mrs. Max Wilson.

Mrs. Gerald Frey opened the meeting with the Aid prayer and the group sang a hymn. Mrs. Carson Maddux was in charge of devotions. Mrs. Riggs, secretary and Mrs. David Lucas, treasurer presented their reports and a donation was voted to the Community Chest.

"Happy Birthday" was sung to Mrs. Lucas and Mrs. Billie Wilson and members who are ill were remembered with cards and flowers. Forty-nine calls were reported.

A committee of Mrs. Riggs, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Frey and Mrs. William Carter was appointed to prepare 12 Thanksgiving baskets.

The meeting closed with the Aid benediction.

Sixty-Five Attend Parish Day Meet

The WSCS of New Martinsburg Methodist Church was hostess Wednesday to all church es in the Good Hope Parish when they met at Forest Shade Grange Hall with 65 present from Staunton, White Oak, Jeffersonville, Maple Grove and Washington C. H.

Mrs. Russell Grice was in charge of the dinner which was held at noon. An autumn theme prevailed in the decorations.

Mrs. Joe McClure, president of the New Martinsburg group, opened the meeting and welcomed the guests. Mrs. Elden Bethards was in charge of the devotions and explained the significance of the "Praying Hands," which each woman wore on her shoulder. Cut-outs of the lovely painting had been made in various colors, a different one for each church.

Mrs. Bethards sang "Ere You Left Your Room This Morning" and the New Martinsburg choir sang, both accompanied by Mrs. Chester Puckett. The devotees also discussed the meaning of "The Lord's Prayer," pointing out that it was a summary of the law of love including six petitions between the things of God and the things of man, five of spiritual things and only one of physical things. Mrs. Bethards closed with a hymn, "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Marion Dawson, of the Maple Grove Church, presented the speaker, Mrs. Mildred Linnard, a church and community worker in the Portsmouth District. She explained her work to the group, pointing out that it is her duty to help find leaders in the 23 churches, to assist new and young ministers in their work and to help organize Bible School, the MYF and WSCS. She tries to visit every home and feels she does her most influential work there. She recounted many interesting experiences she has had.

The Maple Grove group will be hostesses for the next Parish Day event.

Milledgeville News

BY MRS. JOHN MORGAN

Milledgeville Cub Pack 303 met at the home of their den mother, Mrs. Robert E. Creamer, Thursday evening.

Mrs. Creamer called the roll with each Cub answering by naming a favorite flower. Billy Sparks was in charge of the Flag ceremony. Inspection forms were given each boy and they held a discussion concerning uniform in-spection which will be held at the monthly Pack meeting Nov. 29.

Mark Hiser was unable to attend due to injuries received in a bicycle accident. Johnny Hiser served refreshments to the group.

The evening was spent to continue working on the Christmas presents for their parents, and the meeting closed with the living circle, Greg Stockwell leading the Cub Scout motto, Mike Davis the Cub Scout promise and Billy Sparks the Cub Scout law.

WORLD COMMUNITY DAY

World Community Day, sponsored by the Fayette County United Church Women, was held at the First Presbyterian Church in Washington C. H. Friday.

The Rev. Arthur Sheneffel, pastor of the Milledgeville Methodist Church, gave the invocation for the luncheon at 12:30 p.m. An original menu was served with a hostess for each table dressed in costumes representing different countries. Each one told about the country they represented.

A program was held at 2 p.m., with the president, Mrs. Ormond Dewey, in charge of the "call to worship" and the business session. Mrs. Jean Craig told of the "significance of World Community Day" and introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Harold James. Mrs. James talked about "The Migrant Ministry."

Gifts for migrant workers presented from the Milledgeville Church were three medical kits; two sewing kits consisting of needles, thimble, tape measure, pin cushion, black thread, white thread, darning cotton, scissors and a collection of buttons; one clean-up kit, consisting of wash cloth, towel, soap, comb, tooth brush, tooth paste, nail file, safety pins (these items placed in a drawstring bag) $5.00 cash that had been given for material to make dresses and a $16 cash donation.

Those attending from this church were the Rev. Mr. Sheneffel, Mrs. H. R. Allen, Mrs. Harry Allen, Mrs. Hoyt Bock, Mrs. Floy Ferguson and Mrs. John Morgan.

"GOD AND COUNTRY AWARD"

The minister, the Rev. Arthur Sheneffel, met with six Explorer Scouts of Milledgeville Post 303, Sunday evening at 6 p.m. at the Methodist Church, for further counseling on the God and Country Award requirements.

On Sunday, Nov. 25, the God and Country Award candidates will be in charge of the morning worship services at the Center Churches.

The Rev. Mr. Sheneffel closed the session with prayer.

Candidates present were Jim Roy Glass, Randy Dice, Larry Kel-lens, Danny Young, Vernon Klontz and Billy Pratter.

HONOR BIRTHDAYS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Creamer entertained with a dinner party at their home Sunday honoring the birthdays of Bobby Lee Creamer, and Barton and Eldon Howard, all three having birthdays this week. Those present were Eldon Howard, Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Lee Crear, Cedarville; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Howard, Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Barton Howard and children, Tammie, Danna and Billy, Jeffersonville, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Creamer and children, Barbara, Billy and Bonnie.

SENIOR MYF MEETS

Members of the Senior MYF met at the Methodist Church Sunday evening at 6:30 p.m.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Glenn Rankin. J. P. Morgan called the roll and gave the treasurer's report. The group voted to take the money they have it, a savings account and donate toward the expense of the new fuel oil furnace that was recently installed in the church basement.

The minister, the Rev. Arthur Sheneffel, was in charge of the devotions and closed the meeting with prayer.

Those present were Glenn Rankin, Jim Roy Glass, Randy Dice, Billy Pratter, Vernon Klontz, Danny Young, Larry Kelly, the Rev. Sheneffel and J. P. Morgan.

ATTENDS CLASS MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Creamer and daughter, Bonnie, attended the class meeting of the Christian Builders Class of the Jeffersonville Church of Christ, held at the home of Mrs. Faye Tracey, Jeffersonville, Tuesday evening.

The business meeting was preceded by a covered dish supper.

PAUL WHITNEY'S gold coupe de velour and silk satin hostess gown is stitched and fitted high at the waistline. A rolled half collar frames the back of the V-neckline.

MTHS RECEIVES FLAGS--Miami Trace High School Principal George Groh Jr. (center) receives one of the 27 American flags presented Thursday afternoon for permanent display in MTHS classrooms. ## Women Score Notable Gain In Seeking State Offices

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Women, running for everything from coroner to Congress in Tuesday's election, suffered some setbacks in their national contests but scored numerous successes in seeking state offices.

As a result of losses in congressional races, the next national legislature will have only 13 women—the fewest since 1953. There were a record 20 in the 87th Congress, the last one.

The lone woman to try for the Senate, Idaho's Rep. Gracie Pfost, lost out in close balloting to Republican incumbent Len B. Jordan.

Mrs. Pfost, 56, is veteran of more than 30 years in politics and a five-term Democratic member of the House. She probably could have kept her House seat but gambled for the Senate.

There were 28 women candidates for Congress. Aside from Mrs. Pfost, 16 were newcomers and only one made it.

She is Charlotte Reid, 48, a professional singer. She became a candidate in Illinois' 13th district when her attorney husband, Frank Reid, the Republican nominee, died of a heart ailment.

Mrs. Reid won by a good margin over Democrat Stanley Cowan, 51, owner of a dry ice service in Dundee, Ill.

Seven women members of the 87th Congress retired because of health, personnel or redistricting.

In New Mexico, Alberta Miller, a Democrat, was elected secre-tares. All the incumbents who sought re-election won easily.

They are: Connecticut Secretary of State Ella T. Grasso was re-elected as part of a Democratic sweep of state administrative offices. She defeated Helen Loy, Republican, for the job ordinarily filled by women.

Democrats — Martha Griffiths (Michigan's 17th), Leonor K. Sullivan (Missouri's 3rd), Edna F. Kelly (New York's 12th), Edith Green (Oregon's 3rd), Julia Butler Hansen (Washington's 3rd), and Elizabeth Kee (West Virginia's 5th).

Mrs. Bolton, a veteran of 20 years in Congress, received added pleasure with her re-election.

Her son, Oliver P. Bolton, a former congressman, was elected to the House again. He defeated Democratic Rep. Robert E. Cook in Ohio's 11th District.

There were 28 women candidates for Congress. Aside from Mrs. Pfost, 16 were newcomers and only one made it.

She is Charlotte Reid, 48, a professional singer. She became a candidate in Illinois' 13th district when her attorney husband, Frank Reid, the Republican nominee, died of a heart ailment.

Mrs. Reid won by a good margin over Democrat Stanley Cowan, 51, owner of a dry ice service in Dundee, Ill.

Seven women members of the 87th Congress retired because of health, personnel or redistricting.

In New Mexico, Alberta Miller, a Democrat, was elected secretary of state, a post traditionally held by women.

Connecticut Secretary of State Ella T. Grasso was re-elected as part of a Democratic sweep of state administrative offices. She defeated Helen Loy, Republican, for the job ordinarily filled by women.

Belle Everett, a Democrat, was re-elected state treasurer of Delaware.

In Nebraska, State Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln easily won re-election to a third consecutive term as the only woman in the state's one-house legislature.

Eight women were elected to Ohio's House of Representatives and six were defeated.

Eight women also were elected to seats in the Maryland Legislature, two of them to the senate.

In California, Pauline Davis of Portola retained her second District State Assembly seat but Beatrice Gale of Downey was beaten by the male incumbent in the 38th District Assembly race.

In New York, one woman Democrat won State Assembly seat but 12 others—mostly members of New York's Liberal party—took a beating in legislative races.

Bob, I stopped by the new Ohio Bell building today ...

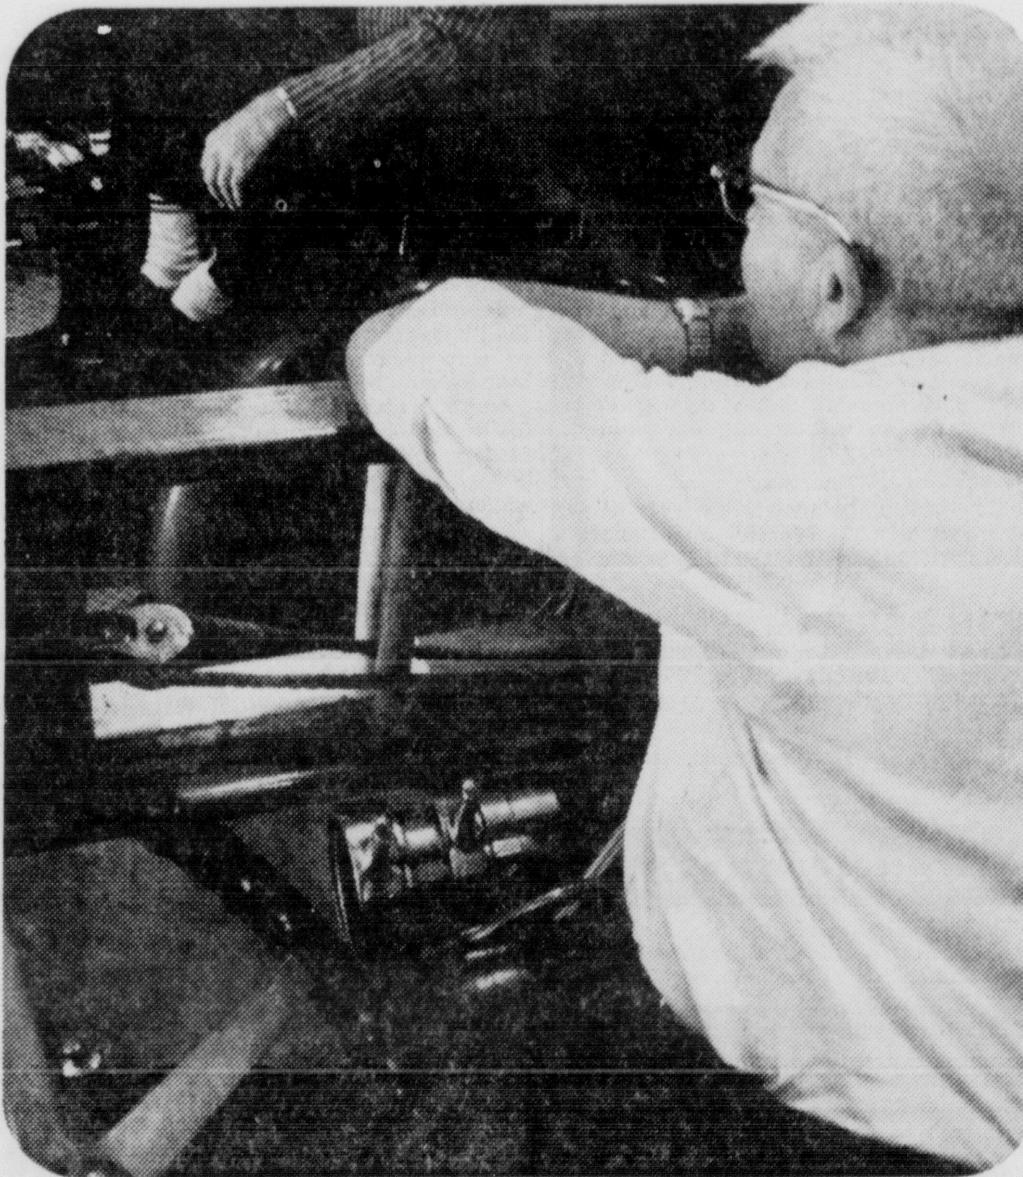

lots of spankin' new telephone equipment in it ...

but no windows!

I hear Ohio Bell spent $1,650,000 to bring all this equipment to town.

More than you make in a year, Bob

We start using our new local dial system, Direct Distance Dialing, and the rest on November 10...

you know, Bob, we'll have about the finest telephone service and facilities in all of North America ...

South America, too, probably.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

One hundred years ago this week the major Civil War news was carried in the Fayette County Herald, in letters from members of two of the units in which Fayette County men were serving.

"Lovejoy," writing from Colinsville, Md., where he was stationed with Capt. Robinson's Cavalry, told of a series of engagements with the Confederate forces in the Bull Run area and how many Union men were lost by a series of blunders. Some of the soldiers fled after the first clash with enemy forces.

Rebel cavalrymen had slipped up on the Union troopers 15 miles behind the main army and put to rout the entire force in a surprise attack at 10 o'clock at night.

Most of the surprised Unionists escaped in the darkness, taking refuge in ditches, behind trees and stumps, and in weeds until the raiders were gone, taking with them a dozen or more prisoners and leaving many dead and wounded in their tents.

More than 1,000 wounded were left on the field, unattended for three or four days, dying of exposure, loss of blood and hunger, in one engagement it was related, it was related.

"Typo," a Fayette countian who did not wish his name known as the writer, was with the 44th Ohio Regiment at Lexington, Ky., where the unit arrived after a forced march of 100 miles from Covington in four days. They found the invading Confederate forces had been driven off.

Then—ah, then—the tongues began to wag, as they always have had a habit of doing. The bereaved widow, or widower as the case might be, was looking for another mate!

It has not been many years since the trend toward wearing normal colors even at the death of closest relatives or friends was started. Today few people cling to the old show of mourning by donning black and wearing it constantly.

Back yonder, three-quarters of a century ago, it was almost sacrilegious to wear anything but black even when attending the funeral of a friend.

The black for mourning was also carried into correspondence paper and envelopes, which were black edged, and as a result people used to shrink from opening a letter received if the envelope was edged in black.

It was something like receiving telegrams in bygone years—nearly every telegram was supposed to be the harbinger of death, and the envelope always was opened with trepidation. That was before the days when the telephone came into general use.

POLLUTION DWINDLES

During the last 10 years Ohioans have spent $700 million toward controlling stream pollution, and while this has done much toward relieving a bad situation, the use of detergents continues to pollute practically every sizeable stream in the state and nation.

George H. Eagle, chief of the Division of Sanitary Engineering, Ohio Department of Health, says that of the 193 cities in Ohio, only 13 were without sewage treatment plants or such plants under construction.

Drained and irrigated sections of France's Camargue region produce almost all the rice consumed in that country.

A total of 185 villages have sewage treating plants, and about 50 others still need them.

"After the issue of three numbers more, the fourth volume of The Herald will be completed. We hope that friends of a good and true Union paper published in our own county, will take pains to obtain a few hundred additional subscribers."

Apparently the old brick courthouse which stood on the corner where the Sharp Memorial Fountain is now, was in a bad state of repair, for the paper carried the following notice:

"If a stranger were to judge, as he naturally would, from the delapidated condition of the cupola and number of missing panes of glass in our green old Court-house, he would come to the conclusion that justice was on the wane in Fayette County. It would cost but little to have these repaired and it certainly would save the county the loss of some credit."

MOURNING APPAREL

It has not been many years since many well-to-do folks kept special garb for wearing to funerals. If a close relative died, they continued to wear the black clothes for a certain period of time.

Black always was considered the outward indication of a sorrowing heart, and frequently the "widow weeds" were worn for a year or more before the bereaved party started adding a touch of color, and finally "blossoming out".

Then—ah, then—the tongues began to wag, as they always have had a habit of doing. The bereaved widow, or widower as the case might be, was looking for another mate!

Ohio Chamber Commerce Election Due Nov. 15

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new Ohio Chamber of Commerce president and board chairman will be elected Nov. 15 by the Chamber's 88-member board of directors.

The board will choose successors for President Hugo H. Young of Loudonville, and Board Chairman Harry W. Arnold of Columbus, at a meeting preceding the Chamber's 60th annual meeting here.

The world's largest wildlife sanctuary is the Etosha Pan Conservation Territory in Southwest Africa. It covers 26,000 square miles—the size of Delaware and West Virginia combined. The area protects spectacular herds of antelopes, zebras and elephants.

Drained and irrigated sections of France's Camargue region produce almost all the rice consumed in that country.

A total of 185 villages have sew-

Thus Myrl Alexander of Southern Illinois University sums up one of the problems he must solve. Alexander is leader of a group at the university's East St. Louis branch that is spearheading a nationwide survey into why the boy next door steals, robs or generally goes bad. They want to find out how to help the boy.

Alexander, professor of sociology at SIU, is developing the first antijuvenile delinquency center under the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crimes.

He won his professorship the hard way—30 years with the U.S. Bureau of Prisons, the last 14 as its assistant director.

The government gave SIU $182,000 to set up the center and find answers to the problems of juvenile delinquency.

"Nobody in the world has the answers to this problem," Alexander said. "We don't pretend to. But we are involved in a nationwide attempt to develop new approaches to it."

Alexander and his two-man staff—he hopes for at least 10—will work at two main tasks: training graduate students for a certain period of time.

Prof Studies 'Why Boys Go Bad'

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — "We know how to put a man into orbit. But we don't know why the kid next door steals a car."

Thus Myrl Alexander of Southern Illinois University sums up one of the problems he must solve. Alexander is leader of a group at the university's East St. Louis branch that is spearheading a nationwide survey into why the boy next door steals, robs or generally goes bad. They want to find out how to help the boy.

Alexander, professor of sociology at SIU, is developing the first antijuvenile delinquency center under the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crimes.

He noted that "three-fourths of juvenile crime occurs in urban areas and four-fifths of that is in blighted areas where there is cultural, economic and educational deprivation—slums."

"On the other hand, some great leaders come from the slums. I remember a real good bank robber who grew up next door to Al Smith. We don't quite know why one kid might go one way and become governor of New York and the other and become a bank robber."

Alexander said "treating of a delinquent as an individual has failed and we're moving away from this rapidly. It is too broad a problem with too many factors. Each individual is not a free moral agent. He is subject to the influence of the group."

By next summer a full course work in the field of juvenile delinquency prevention and working with people already in youth work for school counselors will be ready here and by late winter graduate students will be able to take courses in classrooms, prisons, jails and the courts.

Similar centers are being set up in Chicago, New York, New Orleans and other major cities.

Clove Market Goes To Pot

Zanzibar Is Stuck With 2-Year Backlog

ZANZIBAR (AP)—Anybody with a bright idea for increasing the consumption of cloves should get in touch with his highness the sultan, Seyyid Sir Abdulla Bin Khalifa, royal palace, Beit El-Ajaib Square, Zanzibar.

The sultan's realm, which encompasses the tiny islands of Zanzibar and Pemba off East Africa, has 4.5 million clove trees and supplies 8 of every 10 cloves in the world.

The bottom has dropped out of that market. The huge warehouses of the Zanzibar Clove Growers Association are piled high with 22,000 tons of cloves—a two-year backlog.

The sweet, spicy smell of cloves gives the narrow streets and crowded bazaars of Zanzibar an oriental flavor, but the aroma is turning sour for the merchants.

At association headquarters, where the trade is controlled, they tell you sadly that Indonesia bought 8,000 tons of cloves in 1960, but only 3,000 in 1961. The 1962 figures look even worse. A ton of cloves is worth about $750 on the world market.

India's purchases have dropped from 2,500 tons to 500 tons. India and Indonesia traditionally are bulwarks of the clove market. In the past, they have taken about 90 per cent of the world supply.

The United States still buys about 1,000 tons a year. Most of it goes into spiced meats and other foods and, in the form of clove oil, into toothpaste, soaps, hard candy and ice cream.

The sultan is interested in the trade for a number of reasons. It provides a living for a good many of his subjects. It normally provides a third of all government revenue in the form of export taxes.

LONDON (AP)—A British judge has ruled that a man can owe a greater duty to his mistress than to his wife.

The background to the ruling was this:

The late John Lucas had two women in his life—his wife, Elsie Lucas, 63; and his mistress for 30 years, Jean Watts, 66.

When he died earlier this year, Lucas left an estate of 2,683 pounds—$7,532—to Miss Watts.

He left nothing to his wife.

Lucas lived with his wife for seven years. They had two children. After he left her, he went to live with Miss Watts.

Hearing evidence and passing judgment in the case, Justice Sir Geoffrey Cross said the problem is to decide which of the two women has the bigger claim to the money.

"He certainly owed a duty to his wife," the judge said.

"At the same time, he had a high duty to Miss Watts."

Justice Cross pointed out that Lucas and Miss Watts both worked.

Every Friday, they pooled their earnings.

They deducted 25 shillings—comes apparent that he knows what he is doing.

Trevor Howard also manages a difficult feat. His Bligh would naturally face comparison with Laughton's Bligh. Howard is capital as the inflexible captain.

Richard Harris draws third star billing, and he makes a fine, maturing mutineer. The rest of the crew, Britshers all, are superbly cast. Tarita, the native girl who provides the major romantic interest, is easy on the eyes, especially in performance of the free-wheeling Tahitian hula.

"Mutiny on the Bounty" does.

Even if all its millions don't show on the screen, enough do to make it one of the great screen spectacles.

Some of the Tahiti scenes—native boats swarming around the newly-arrived Bounty; an immense human chain herding fish into a lagoon—are no less than magnificent.

What about the film as drama?

It is not an easy job for a remake to capture the magic of the original, especially a well-remembered one like the Clark Gable-Charles Laughton 1935 version. The 1962 film tries a few new tricks, which are welcome and often successful.

The portrayal of Marlon Brando as Fletcher Christian is destined to be controversial. He appears to have sought the farthest reach from the Gable portrayal and presents Christian as an upper-class fool.

But Brando is still the most fascinating actor around, and it be-

New 'Bounty' Film Expected To Return Its $18.5 Million

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Mutiny on the Bounty" at long last has ended its second film voyage, and the question will be asked: Was it worth it?

In view of the new economics of the movie business, the answer will probably be: Yes. In the old days, investment of $18½ million in one film would be enough to put a studio under the waves. But today's market allows a company to recoup such an investment over the long haul—if the movie has merit.

"Mutiny on the Bounty" does.

Even if all its millions don't show on the screen, enough do to make it one of the great screen spectacles.

Some of the Tahiti scenes—native boats swarming around the newly-arrived Bounty; an immense human chain herding fish into a lagoon—are no less than magnificent.

What about the film as drama?

It is not an easy job for a remake to capture the magic of the original, especially a well-remembered one like the Clark Gable-Charles Laughton 1935 version. The 1962 film tries a few new tricks, which are welcome and often successful.

The portrayal of Marlon Brando as Fletcher Christian is destined to be controversial. He appears to have sought the farthest reach from the Gable portrayal and presents Christian as an upper-class fool.

But Brando is still the most fascinating actor around, and it be-

Dad Burns Boy's Hands For Not Knowing ABC's

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Fred Wright, 32, of Painesville was arraigned today on a charge of mistreating his 7-year-old son, Freddie, by burning his hands with a cigarette lighter for not knowing his ABC's.

Judge John F. Clair Jr. sent Wright to the Lake County Jail when the man couldn't post $200 bond. The complaint was made by Wright's wife, Rosie.

Latin Progress Program Rapped

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—President Guillermo Leon Valencia expressed deep concern today about lack of progress in President Kennedy's $20-billion Alliance for Progress program.

"Hungry people are expectant and waiting," he said. "It would be very dangerous to keep them waiting too long."

Government statistics give a gloomy picture of the plight of Colombia's 15 millions:

Most are underfed.

Per capita income is $183 a year; in the United States it is more than $2,200.

40 per cent can't read or write.

Nearly 700,000 children do not attend school because of a lack of facilities.

The nation needs 280,000 housing units for improved living conditions.

"When I visited the United States last spring, I was told Colombia would be a showcase for Alliance for Progress," Valencia told an interviewer. "The showcase is ready and waiting but there is very little to put into it."

The program is a good one, the president said.

"It could transform Latin America in a magnificent way, to the advantage of the United States and all countries concerned," he added. "But the Alliance for Progress must make more progress if our hopes are to be achieved."

Colombia, with former President Alberto Lleras Camargo at the helm, was the first country in Latin America to submit a long-range plan for the program a year ago.

It proposed 22,000 new classrooms, 43,066 housing units, irrigation projects, agricultural development and industrial programs to create thousands of new jobs. In 10 years, the Colombian planners figured, per capita income could be increased to $286 a year.

The total investment would amount to a $8.4 billion, of which $1.7 billion would come from abroad, mostly from the United States.

But Valencia said "all too little" has come Colombia's way so far.

About $49 million was spent in the first year of President Kennedy's program. Another $150 million was committed but has not been disbursed.

Valencia says Fidel Castro's Communist Cuban regime is trying to gain a foothold in his nation by arming and financing bandits in remote mountain areas.

The bandits have been killing an estimated 100 persons a month in isolated northern and western districts.

Widespread banditry has been an outgrowth of political feuds that raged for 20 years until 1958, when a coalition government was organized.

Christian Science Teacher To Speak Here Next Tuesday

How spiritual awakening gives real meaning to life will be brought out in an address to be given here next Tuesday evening, by Charles M. Carr of New York City.

A Christian Science teacher and practitioner, Carr is an extensive tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship. He will speak in the local church edifice, 504 E. Temple St. at 8 p.m. under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

The subject of his lecture will be "Christian Science and Everyday Living." The lecture is free and local members have invited the public to attend.

Carr is a native of Melrose, Mass. He received his education at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. In 1942 he withdrew from business to devote his full time to the public practice of Christian Science. Ten years later he became an authorized teacher of Christian Science.

New Mine Union Boss Is On Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coal miners have come up with another bushy-browed labor union chief to worry the mine owners.

W. A. (Tony) Boyle is touring the coal fields and rousing the miners for something. The operators suspect it may be them. Four years have gone by since John L. Lewis, now officially retired, got the miners their last pay raise.

Boyle is 58. He has a fine set of red eyebrows and a folksy sort of speech. He can't compare, of course, in either department with his mentor, labor's oldtime blood and thunder expert, Lewis, now 82.

Lewis is still around, still active as president emeritus of the United Mine Workers Union, privately prodding Boyle along. Actually Boyle is the UMW's No. 2 man as vice president. But he's operating like No. 1 since President Tom Kennedy, at 75, has been ailing for some time.

Coal labor relations, at least with the major industry producers, have been serenely peaceful since the last industrywide strike in 1950.

There have been constant troubles with small mine operators, particularly in eastern Kentucky and eastern Tennessee, who have balked at paying the 40-cent a ton slack demand and declining prices. The UMW welfare fund, in turn, has had to reduce pensions and take steps to dispose of a chain of mine area hospitals.

Among other UMW troubles are the fact that non-union coal production has risen from 20 to 27 per cent of the total and that union membership has continued to dwindle until it now is only 160,000.

Although nominally in retirement, Lewis is reported still the man in charge of the UMW while putting Boyle forward as the man he wants the industry to deal with.

Thus, when coal operators received a hot missive from Boyle, carrying an underline saying the contents were attested to by Lewi s, the industry sat up and took notice.

Boyle said in about as many words that if the coal operators went ahead with plans to put diest-powered equipment in coal mines they would have a strike on their hands.

It is clear the UMW is ad-

Tips On Selling Given To Students By Store Manager

By RONNIE SMITH

We were honored last Friday by a guest speaker in sales class. Mr. Carroll, our sales teacher, invited Mr. H. D. Bell, manager of the Montgomery Ward Store here, to speak to our class.

Mr. Bell has been the manager of Montgomery Ward's Store here for four and a half years. He has been with the company since 1942 and is celebrating his 20th anniversary with it. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, American Legion, Elks, Lions Club and the Country Club.

He brought out many important points in his talk. He explained what he looked for during an interview. He stressed the importance of filling out an application form completely. This shows how thorough you are, he said.

The first impression is an important part of the interview, he said. Good taste in your dress will make a good first impression, not only on the employer, but also on the customer. During an interview, Mr. Bell said, he likes to hear the person talk.

He stressed that you should have a reason for wanting a job.

In this talk, Mr. Bell invited the students to ask questions. One was: "What do you think of an applicant who asks the salary during the early stage of the interview?" He replied that the interview was "dead" to him if this was asked early in the interview. "Give the interviewer a chance to inform you of the salary," he advised.

Mr. Bell also stressed cooperation among employees and dependability.

Mr. Carroll and Mr. Bell agree that selling is a wide open field and that any person with the ambition to be a salesman should find it easy to get a job.

Mr. Bell said "if you want to be a salesman you have to want to sell and want to meet people".

He concluded his talk by transforming the old adage "Salesmen are born, not made," to "Salesmen are made, not born."

Dear Blue Lion:

DEAR BLUE LION: My girl friend is becoming very lonely, for she can't be with me during lunch hour anymore. What can I do about it?

MR. WORRIED: Send her another boy to eat with.

DEAR BLUE LION: How soon will there be a survey conducted to indicate the academic value of the extra three minutes that were added to each period?

DON'T KNOW:

DEAR DON'T: I too, would like to sleep a bit longer in the mornings. But I can't answer this without finding out from the principal's office. Since I must keep my real identity a secret, I can't ask. Why don't you? There's always a good reason for every change.

DEAR BLUE LION: What should we do to keep from getting thrown into the showers Friday night?

SCARED MANAGERS: Go to the pep rally, yell, and then hope we beat Greenfield. You might take your bath earlier for a change.

Northwestern, Southern Cal. Face Tell-Tale Grid Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Northwestern and Southern California, the nation's top two college football teams and the leading contenders for the Rose Bowl, have their work cut out for them Saturday and each is well aware of it.

Northwestern, unbeaten and rated No. 1 in the country, has only to look at the early line to find out about the sentiment on its game with Wisconsin: The Wildcats are favored by only a half point.

And Southern California Coach John McKay put it this way when discussing Stanford's oft-beaten Indians:

"We know Stanford can be dangerous. Michigan State and UCLA discovered that."

Southern Cal, winner of six straight, is a 12½ point favorite over Jack Curtice's lads from Palo Alto, but that's about the margin Stanford was supposed to lose by against Michigan State and UCLA—and it beat both.

While Stanford has little to gain but satisfaction in the spoilers role, Wisconsin has more than enough incentive in its match with Northwestern. The Badgers, if they get by the Wildcats, would be the No. 1 candidate for the visiting spot in the Rose Bowl.

Wisconsin is ranked eighth in the nation on a 5-1 season record.

The rest of the Top Ten would appear to have easier going, but it should be noted that there have been a flock of full-blown upsets every week this season.

One of the more interesting matches could be the Alabama (No. 3 and 7-0) game with Miami (6-1). That one features passing duel between Alabama sophomore Joe Namath and Miami's George Mira. Alabama, possessing one of the country's best defenses, is a 13-point favorite and a leading contender for either the Sugar or Orange Bowl.

Texas, ranked fifth in the country, and possessing a 6-0-1 record, is favored by 7½ over Baylor, which has won only one. The Longhorns led the Southwest and have their eye on the Cotton Bowl.

Should they stumble, however, Arkansas is likely to get the spot. The Razorbacks are ranked sixth, have a 6-1 record and are a two-touchdown choice over Rice.

Minnesota (5-1) is at home to Iowa and Purdue visits Michigan State in a couple of good Big Ten matches. The Purdue-Michigan State affair, matching two upset victims from last week, is scheduled for national television (CBS).

Mississippi, ranked fourth and unbeaten in six games, and seventh-ranked Missouri, each nursing bowl hopes, are top-heavy favorites. Mississippi, almost sure of a bid to the Sugar, goes against Chattanooga, while Missouri (6-0) is a top contender for the Orange Bowl, takes on Colorado.

Some of the other big games include Maryland at Duke with the Atlantic Coast Conference lead at stake, Columbia at unbeaten Dartmouth, Air Force at UCLA and Oklahoma at Iowa State.

Other major pairings include: East: Oklahoma State at Army, Texas Tech at Boston College, Cornell at Brown, Colgate at Bucknell, Boston University at Connecticut, Rutgers at Delaware, West Virginia at Penn State, Virginia Military at Holy Cross, Navy at Syracuse, Massachusetts at Villanova, Penn at Yale and Harvard at Princeton.

South: Mississippi State at Auburn, Georgia at Florida, Clemson at Furman, Florida State at Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt at Kentucky, Texas Christian at Louisiana State, North Carolina State at South Carolina, Tulane at Tennessee, Wake Forest at Virginia Tech, North Carolina at Virginia, George Washington at William & Mary.

Midwest: Nebraska at Kansas, Illinois at Michigan, Pittsburgh at Notre Dame, Indiana at Ohio State, Brigham Young at Western Michigan, Dayton at Miami (Ohio).

Southwest: Tulsa at Houston, West Texas State at North Texas State, Texas A&M at Southern Methodist.

Far West: Utah at Arizona State, Kansas State at Arizona, Oregon State at Idaho, Montana State at Montana, Texas Western at New Mexico State, Colorado State U. at New Mexico, Washington State at Oregon, Wyoming State at Oregon, Wyoming State at Utah State, California at Washington.

Thomas And Knisley Out With Injuries

Both Starting Lion Halfback May Miss Final Game Tonight

Ankle injuries to the WHS Lions' starting two offensive halfbacks, senior Co-Captain John Thomas and sophomore Craig Knisley, may keep both of them out of tonight's game with Greenfield's Tigers and force Coach Dick Anders to make some switch changes for the final game.

If Knisley and Thomas are unable to play in the season finale, Allen Griffiths, starting sophomore fullback, will move to Knisley's left halfback position. Junior Bill Marting will take over Thomas' right halfback slot and sophomore Tom Scott will go in as starting fullback.

Dale Lynch will start at quarterback, Dan Armbrust and Dan Flowers at ends, Mike Garinger and David Johns at tackles, Steve Coyer and Steve Anders at guards and Calvin Bowers at center.

On defense, there will be two changes. Sophomore Gary Anders will replace Thomas at left outside linebacker and sophomore Carroll Deiber will take over for sophomore Tom Curl at right tackle. No other changes are likely.

Armbrust and Johns will be at ends, Bob Wilson and Deiber at tackles, Dan Isham at middle guard, Garinger and Steve Anders at inside linebackers, Gary Anders and Chuck Snyder at out-

Soviet Cage Team Shows Improvement

NEW YORK (AP)—"This is the best Russian team I've ever seen."

Bud Browning, coach of the United States men's basketball all-stars, was reflecting on the improved performance of the Soviet Union squad. The Americans, composed of AAU players, were hard-pressed to edge the Soviets 70-66 in Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

The game, played under international rules, was the Soviets' first in their eight-game tour of the United States. The teams meet next at the University of Maryland Saturday night.

In the opening game of the twinbill, the Soviet national girl's team turned back the Nashville Business College, women's AAU champions, 59-57, in double overtime.

"Things will get tougher right along," added Browning. The Bartlesville Oilers' coach admitted, "The Russians are shooting better and they've become far more aggressive, especially off the boards."

AP Guesspert Picks Packers Over Eagles

Washington Given Nod To Trip Cleveland; New York Also Favored

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Green Bay Packers' Coach Vince Lombardi has had two burning ambitions since late on the cold winter afternoon of Monday, Dec. 26, 1960. He had just lost the National Football League's title game to the Philadelphia Eagles, and it hurt...it really hurt.

His first desire was to get the title in 1961. His Packers did that 37-0 over the New York Giants last Dec. 31. His second wish was to have another go at the Eagles on the same Franklin Field gridiron where they upset his Packers.

He gets wish No. 2 on Sunday, and this time he comes in as the champion and with a 16-game winning streak that includes eight games this season, six exhibition games, the title game and the last game of the 1961 regular season. The Eagles have gone the other direction. They are last in the Eastern Division with a 1-6 record.

The winners of these games never come easy—either on the field or off. (Last week, a good week—8 correct, 1 wrong, 2 ties; season: 49-32-4).

NFL

Green Bay over Philadelphia—Packers' power too much for Eagles, despite Philadelphia's top defensive showing last week against Browns. Philly fans will see Jim Taylor, Paul Hornung & Co. in far different light than in 1960 title victory.

New York over Dallas—A real swinger, but Giants usually come up with top defensive effort when needed. They'll need one at Dallas against NFL's top offense, headed by Eddie LeBaron and Don Perkins, but have a sharp attack also, led by Y. A. Tittle.

Washington over Cleveland—A real toughie, but Browns battered secondary could be duck soup for Bobby Mitchell's passes and Norm Snead's pitches in nation's capital.

There can be no doubt about the Circleville team being the best in the league. The Tigers have had far and away the best offense with a total of 222 points as well as the best defense

WHS Students Hold Pep Rally At Big Bonfire

A huge throng of shouting High School students voiced their full support to the WHS Lion football team Thursday night when, led by the WHS Varsity Marching Band, they paraded through the city business district and gathered at the WHS practice field on Circleville Ave. for a rip-roaring pep rally by light of a big bon fire.

The parade started at the Temple St. entrance of the high school, continued west on Temple St. to Main St. and then turned north, through the city, and ended at the practice field adjacent to Gardner Park stadium. The Varsity Band and the WHS cheerleaders led the yelling line of rooters.

At the practice field, the students gathered around the bon fire for round after round of traditional cheers and to sing the WHS Alma Mater. To end the colorful pep rally, the Lion football squad was introduced to the crowd which roared pride and encouragement.

Bud Browning, coach of the Broncos, at home, smell that Western title and have guns to get it with Frank Tripucka at quarterback and Donny Stone and Gene Mengo back running at full steam. Patriots lagging a bit recently and torrid race may be taking its toll on veteran QB Babe Parilli.

Houston over Oakland—Oilers also after another title and George Blanda seems to have shaken the interception bug that stymied him recently. Poor winless Raiders just can't get started, not even at home.

Buffalo over San Diego—Chargers are through for the year as a contender and must content themselves and fans with giving their rookies some experience.

Dallas over New York—Titans' title hopes go down before own fans and expert throwing of Texans' Len Dawson, running of Abner Haynes and a solid defense.

Your Horoscope

The Stars Say—BY ESTRELLITA

For Tomorrow

A HIGHLY satisfactory day can be expected as a result of present configurations, with emphasis on the successful outcome of business and financial transactions. During the P.M. there may be some tension in family or social circles, however. Do your part to maintain harmony.

For The Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, you may look ahead to a year which should bring satisfying recognition for past job efforts. Original and constructive ideas put into effect in mid-December should have a vital effect on future progress, but you will have to follow through if you would achieve the results possible.

By late January, your financial affairs should be quite stable and you can plan on expanding a bit throughout February. Results of such efforts should be evident by mid-1963.

There is a strong likelihood that you will travel some time next June or August, and a lengthy journey could prove advantageous in making new contacts. Personal relationships will be under fine aspects during most of the year ahead, auguring well for domestic, social and sentimental interests.

Avoid anxiety and nervous tension—also extravagance—in March and April, however.

A child born on this day will be keenly perceptive, extremely versatile and unusually shrewd in business matters.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. They must be signed by the writer with a complete return address. However the name and address will not be used in the published letter upon request of the writer. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Record-Herald.

EDITOR, RECORD HERALD: When I picked up Thursday evening's paper I read with surprise the letter to the editor signed "Broke n Hearted Mother".

First, I would like to make it clear that the sheriff's office did not arrest, cite or hold in jail Donald Durrell McClain, age 18, Rt. 1, Jeffersonville, nor did we in any way have anything to do with his detention.

We did however have a deputy take his younger brother home that night so that he would not have to wait in the cold or at the police station.

However we were attacked in the paper along with the other police agencies and the Municipal Court. This caused me to make an investigation into his arrest and by doing so I found that a lot of the facts alleged in "Broke n Hearted Mother's" letter to be untrue.

Keeping in mind that neither I nor the writer of the letter were there and are merely relying on statements of others, the facts as I have found are as follows:

At 7:40 p.m. on the night of Oct. 28, 1962, officers of the State Patrol, sheriffs officers and the Sabina police had apprehended three subjects in a truck on the Palmer Rd. near State Route 729. They were being investigated as suspects on the Breaking and Entering of a home and the attempt to molest some women. The officers were standing near the truck when they heard a speeding car coming up the Palmer Rd.

They flashed their lights in order to slow the vehicle down but it sped by in a reckless manner. Patrolman Householder gave chase and arrested McClain. He was brought to Washington C. H. police headquarters and given an opportunity to call his parents.

Patrolman Householder even explained the bond to McClain's father on the phone at that time. His bond was set at $100 which is within the amount set by the court. Officers have found the hard way not to accept checks, plus a court order ordering them to accept only cash. I have worked with the Highway Patrol for nearly 10 years and have always found them to be courteous to the public.

In court the defendant waived the appearance of the patrolman and pleaded guilty, thus admitting the above facts. Anyone who knows Judge Dice and his court knows that no one forced the defendant to receive a fair and just hearing.

In order to get these facts I questioned city officers at the station and called in the state patrolman and the corporal in charge of the post. I also questioned civilians in the station at the time as well as my deputy at the scene.

Second, as to the situations at Good Hope during the Halloween season, only one outhouse was overturned, not several. A very few signs were pulled up. I do not know of any gates removed and find nothing to substantiate the story about the child's candy run over by a teenager. Fayette County's youngsters this year conducted the most orderly and quiet Halloween in many years. At the time of the writing of that letter the boys responsible for the one outhouse were caught by the sheriff and the matter straightened up. The damage was not $60 but $6.

No one's hands were tied that night. No complaint was made to me of any misconduct by any police officer or highway patrolman. As chief law enforcement officer of the county I have made this investigation and find no facts to support a letter such as was printed Thursday.

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director said recently that "Respect for law and order is at its lowest and crime and corruption at its highest."

I agree with the part of the letter "Gossip can make such large stories." We in the law enforcement know so well how true that is. We are probably the most common target of gossips and troublemakers there are and those who have no regard for law and order seem to enjoy tearing into us at every chance. We do not make the laws, we just enforce them.

My department consists of a woman civil deputy, one jailer and three field deputies who must cover an area of 406 square miles containing nearly 25,000 people.

around the clock 24 hours a day. This can be done only by the help of law-abiding citizens. Good government is everyone's business. We do not mind being criticized when we have it coming but we do not like it when it comes from untrue stories not based on actual facts.

This should answer the questions left in the mind of the general public by the letter in Thursday night's paper entitled "Broke n Hearted Mother."

Donald L. Thompson,
Fayette County Sheriff

DWI Hearing Set Nov. 30

4 Drivers Fined, 4 Forfeit Bond

One man charged with driving while intoxicated and reckless operation was released under bond pending a hearing Nov. 30, four drivers drew fines and four others forfeited bond for traffic law violations in Munica's Court Friday morning.

Carl E. Aber, 46, Hillsboro, pleaded not guilty to the DWI and reckless driving operation charges and his hearing was continued by Judge Max G. Dice until Nov. 30. Aber told the court his Hillsboro attorney is in Florida. He was released under two bonds — $350 on the DWI charge and $20 on the reckless operation charge. He was arrested Wednesday night on Columbus Ave. by city police.

FINED on their pleas of guilty were:

Archie M. Saunders, 19, Columbus, arrested Nov. 3 on the State Highway Patrol and charged with crossing the yellow center line on Rt. 62 at the Bloomingburg-New Holland Rd. intersection, $10 and costs.

Lowell R. Douce, 42, near Jeffersonville, charged by the Highway Patrol with failure to display a red light on a wagon loaded with logs on Rt. 70 N last Saturday, $5 and costs;

Robert Lee Bonecutter, 18, of 622 Gregg St., $5 and costs for speeding on Columbus Ave.;

Jerry W. Coder, 21, Good Hope, fined $15 and costs on a State Highway Patrol charge of driving with one headlight and crossing the yellow center line on Rt. 62 south of Mt. Sterling.
